 - (f) floors that are solid and impervious;
 - (g) loading and offloading openings at the rear of the vehicle that are the full width of the vehicle or, if at the sides, a width not less than 2 400 millimeters; and

 - (i) of a design and construction strong enough and suitable for the conveyance of the intended consignment; and
 - (ii) that open and close freely and are able to be well-secured.

 - (b) at a loading bank equal to the height of the floor of the vehicle or, at off-loading, not more than 310 millimeters below the level of the off-loading vehicle and with an incline not exceeding 25 degrees.
29. Where a truck is equipped with an onboard removable loading ramp it must have a nonslip surface and be of a sufficient length when lowered that the inclination is no steeper than the inclines referred to in item 28, with the distance from the ground to the heel of the ramp not exceeding 120 millimeters.
30. Ramps must be correctly adjusted to the exact height of the vehicle's floor.
31. Journeys must commence as soon as possible after the live animals have been loaded and the animals must be promptly off-loaded upon arrival at the destination.
32. Unless adequate provision has been made for effective separation, different species of animals may not be loaded and transported in the same vehicle.

36. In the case of an animal giving birth during transport the necessary measures must be taken to ensure the protection of the mother and offspring from being trampled or otherwise injured or harassed by other animals.

40. No wire or bailing twine may be used for tying the animal's legs or feet.
41. To avoid strangulation or neck-break, a slipknot may not be used where animals are secured to the vehicle by horns or neck, and the rope must be attached to the vehicle at the level of the animal's knees so that in the event of the animal falling, the possibility of serious injury or death is reduced, with the rope being long enough to allow the animal to lie comfortably in a natural position with its head upright.
