3. BASIC STANDARDS FOR BROADCASTING SERVICE LICENSEES

3.1. Improving accessibility

- (a) Broadcasting service licensees must ensure that their services are made available and are accessible to people with disabilities.

- (b) Options for making broadcasting services more accessible may include the following:-
 - (i) Improve and/or increase subtitles and sign language;
 - (ii) Expand knowledge on various adjustments such as induction loops, Minicom/text phones and alternative computer software;
 - (iii) Access to programme support such as fact sheets;
 - (iv) Websites to offer a range of formats (such as electronic versions, Braille and audiotape);
 - (v) Use of spoken language where economic indicators, weather details, telephone numbers and addresses or details of goods and services are shown on-screen;
 - (vi) Use of non-scheduled services such as access via Personal Video Digital Recorders (PVRs) and TV Anytime.

- (c) Broadcasting service licensees must monitor the effectiveness of their service through surveys as well as contact with organisations of and for people with disability and stakeholders.

3.2. Broadcasting service licensees must ensure that the broadcasting content does not stereotype people with disabilities

- 3.2.1. Broadcasting service licensees must consult organizations of and for people with disabilities on the way disability is portrayed in programming.

In this regard active measures to be addressed during this consultation must include, but not limited to:-

- (a) Proactive efforts to engage people with disabilities in programming of every genre;
- (b) Establishing links with local disability organizations to generate story ideas and to identify potential contributors. For instance broadcasting service licensees can establish a database of people with disabilities in their regions;
- (c) Including people with disabilities in studio audiences (reach them through disability websites or publications);

3.3. Licensees must report on an annual basis on the progress of implementation of the above.
