SOUTH AFRICAN HERITAGE RESOURCES AGENCY

DECLARATION OF "WONDERWERK CAVE", PORTION OF PORTION 23 OF FARM, BLOCK AA 689, (IN KURUMAN) AS A NATIONAL HERITAGE SITE

By virtue of the powers vested in the South African Heritage Resources Agency in terms of section 27(5) of the National Heritage Resources Act, 25 of 1999, SAHRA hereby declares "Wonderwerk Cave" situated on Portion of Portion 23 of farm BLOCK AA 689 in Kuruman, as a National Heritage Site.

SITE SIGNIFICANCE

Research at Wonderwerk Cave, in the eastern Kuruman Hills, has generated important insights into nearly two million years of human history. The site comprises a 140 m deep cave with a 6 m archaeological deposit, as well as a portion of the Wonderwerk farm property. It was ceded to the McGregor Museum as a heritage site and public servitude. It is a declared Provincial Heritage Site and has been graded Grade 1 by SAHRA Council. It was nominated as part of a serial nomination, with Border Cave and Klasies River Mouth, for the tentative list for World Heritage Sites, and this has since been changed to an individual nomination for the site.

In terms of the criteria set out in Section 3(3) of the National Heritage Resources Act (Act No. 25 of 1999) Wonderwerk Cave qualifies for national heritage status on several criteria. Research, since the 1940s, into the archaeological deposits within Wonderwerk Cave has testified to the site's importance in the pattern of South Africa's history. Some 6 m deep, the deposits are estimated to span nearly 2 million years. This includes a long Stone Age sequence from Oldowan and Acheulean to Later Stone Age times, ending with evidence of occupation by the first white settlers, who lived in the cave in the early twentieth century.

Wonderwerk Cave exhibits rare and endangered aspects of South Africa's cultural heritage. Distinctive rock paintings on the cave walls date from the last thousand years. In the Later Stone Age levels (c. 11 000 BP to <1000 BP) some of the older dated rock engravings known from the African continent were found. A fragment of engraved haematite from still older Middle Stone Age levels may be c. 70 000 years old. In Middle and Earlier Stone Age levels, besides a lithic sequence through Acheulean to Howiesons Poort, there is early evidence for controlled use of fire (ash, burnt stone and calcined bone), grass bedding and pigment usage. Together these are suggestive of aspects of behavioural modernity in the emergence of modern humans. Environmental evidence bearing on human development in the region is provided in the exceptionally well preserved animal bones (including species which became extinct in early Holocene times, with human agency as a probable contributory factor) and other palaeoenvironmental indicators.

Research at Wonderwerk has already proven the potential of the site to yield information on human, natural and cultural heritage over the past nearly 2 million years. Several different dating techniques and other forms of analysis have been and are being applied.

Greater chronological control will provide a basis for a fuller interpretation. The multiple-stratum sequence spanning Oldowan and Acheulean to Later Stone Age times provides a unique record of palaeoenvironmental and human history, including some of the phases during which anatomically modern human forms and behavioural characteristics were emerging.

Wonderwerk Cave is unique in the Northern Cape in demonstrating the characteristics of cave sites of this period. It is one of the very few known localities in South Africa with a multiple-stratum archaeological sequence with good organic preservation spanning the Middle Pleistocene. It is one of the very few cave sites containing Acheulean material, let alone Oldowan, while part of its cultural succession also complements the archaeological record from key sites reflecting the emergence of modern humans, such as Klasies River Mouth and Border Cave. In sum, it provides a unique record of palaeoenvironmental and human history in important phases of human evolution, and sheds light on the development of rock art on the African continent.

The site has yielded evidence of the development of rock art from Middle Stone Age times to within the last 1000 years. The significance of this, which has continental and even world-wide heritage value and implications in terms of the development of human behaviour, has been alluded to above.

As indicated above, the site has yielded exceptional evidence for early development of art forms, while the lithic industries have been pivotal in defining cultural stratigraphies for the interior, where few other stratified cave sites exist, thus demonstrating creative and technical achievement. It is indeed one of the few cave sites in the subcontinent with Acheulean levels, also yielding artefacts in a kind of raw material and adequate state of preservation for microwear analysis of, for example, handaxes.

While in some senses the site can be said to have universal cultural relevance, the upper levels and the finger paintings on its walls would have strong spiritual associations for the Khoe-San people of the region whose ancestry can be traced into Later Stone Age times.

TAKE NOTICE THAT the commissioner in the Metal and Engineering Bargaining Council Case No AB: 48/09, arbitrating a dispute about the interpretation and application of the Main Collective Agreement of the council, has referred a question contemplated in section 62 (1) (a) and (b) of the Labour Relations Act, 1995 to the CCMA for determination in terms of the said section 62.

TAKE NOTICE FURTHER THAT the particulars of the referral are as follows:

1. Polyoak Packaging (Pty) Ltd ("Polyoak") is a manufacturer of rigid packaging out of polymer and for different uses and its manufacturing operations fall within the scope of the Metal and Engineering Industries Bargaining Council ("MEIBC");
2. Until 31 July 2008 Polyoak did its own packing and until that date the applicants were employed by Polyoak as packers;
3. With effect from 1 August 2008 the wages of the applicants were paid by Inyameko Packaging (Pty) Ltd ("Inyameko");
4. Mr S.K. Zondi and nineteen others (the applicants) referred a dispute about the interpretation and application of the Main Collective Agreement of the MEIBC to the MEIBC for arbitration under Case No. AB: 48/09;
5. The arbitrating commissioner referred the matter to the CCMA in terms of section 62(3A) of the LRA for a demarcation;
6. The main question to be determined during the demarcation process is whether the applicants are employed or engaged in the metal and engineering sector and whether the Main Collective Agreement of the MEIBC applies to them;
7. The CCMA, the applicants, Polyoak and Inyameko agree that in order for the main question to be determined, rulings are required to be made on the following issues and that such issues are of such substantial importance that the CCMA should publish a notice in the Government Gazette in accordance with section 62 (7) of the LRA reflecting that the issues are:
 - (a) Whether with effect from 1 August 2006 Polyoak continued to perform its own packing function or whether the packing function was from then onwards performed by Inyameko;
 - (b) Whether the packing function falls within the scope of the MEIBC and whether the Main Collective Agreement of the MEIBC is binding on the employees performing the packing function and their employer including
 - whether the packing function is incidental to the manufacturing activity; and
 - what the effect thereof is that the packing is done in a separate area, if that is found to be a fact;
 - (c) Whether the applicants were employed by Inyameko with effect from 1 August 2008 or whether they continued to be employed by Polyoak;
 - (d) In the event of a finding that the applicants were employed by Inyameko,
 - whether Inyameko was a separate packing or packaging company to whom Polyoak had outsourced its packing operations; or
 - whether Inyameko was a temporary employment service that provided employees to Polyoak; and
 - whether such distinction has any effect on the applicability of the Main Collective Agreement of the MEIBC; and
 - (e) In the event of a finding that Inyameko is a temporary employment service and that the applicants were employed and/or engaged by them, whether the Main Collective Agreement of the MEIBC applies to them.

TAKE NOTICE FURTHER THAT the issues are to be determined under Case No. KNDB8564-09 at the offices of the CCMA, 6th Floor, Embassy Building, 199 Smith Street, Durban on a date to be determined by the Registrar.

Name of product: RoadCem Non-traditional soil stabiliser

Certificate holder: Marble Gold 453 (Pty) Ltd

Description:

ROADCEM is a non-traditional soil stabilizer additive for road base construction that is always used with cement. It reacts with cement and bond in-situ soil to produces a needle-like crystalline cementitious matrix. The matrix has good interlock and generates significant improvements in strength, and also allows for more flexibility than in traditional cement based or only cement treated materials. Leaching potential is significantly reduced and in some cases eliminated completely. ROADCEM is manufactured in the Netherlands in compliance with the specification of ISO 9001 and ISO 14002 standards. It is delivered in powder form packed in 25 kg bags. It is available as an optimised proprietary blend (in powder form) or can be blended to suit site specific conditions to ensure the desired results.

RoadCem is spread by hand prior to/during mixing with cement. The contractor depending on the size of the work may want it pre-blended with cement and may request a cement manufacturer to do it. Alternatively the contractor may want to spread it with a separate piece of equipment (farming fertilizer spreader) prior to/during the cement mixing process.

NOTICE 230 OF 2010

INTERNATIONAL TRADE ADMINISTRATION COMMISSION OF SOUTH AFRICA*TERMINATION OF THE INVESTIGATION INTO THE ALLEGED CIRCUMVENTION OF ANTI-DUMPING DUTIES AGAINST IMPORTS OF TALL OIL FATTY ACID ORIGINATING IN OR IMPORTED FROM SWEDEN THROUGH IMPORTING FROM FINLAND

The International Trade Administration Commission of South Africa (the Commission) initiated an investigation into the alleged circumvention of the anti-dumping duties on imports of tall oil fatty acid originating in or imported from Sweden, through importing from Finland. Notice of initiation of the investigation was published in Notice No.998 of 2009 of Government Gazette No.32415 dated 24 July 2009.

The application was lodged by ITS Trade, on behalf of Industrial Oleochemical Products (Pty) Ltd, (the Applicant) being the sole manufacturer of the product under investigation in SACU, which alleged that subsequent to the imposition of anti-dumping duties against Sweden, certain importers began sourcing the subject product from Arizona Chemical Oy in Finland.

The investigation was initiated after the Commission considered that there was prima facie evidence to indicate that a switch from the supplier in Sweden to a related supplier in Finland was taking place, hence a case of country hopping.

Upon initiation of the investigation, a foreign manufacturer or exporters questionnaire was sent to known producer and exporter of the subject product in Finland to complete.

Importers of the subject product were also sent questionnaires to complete. The exporter of the subject product in Finland, Arizona Chemical Oy and two importers, Hobart Trading and Rolfes Colour Pigments International, responded to the Commission's exporters and importers questionnaires.

The Commission considered all information submitted by interested parties and decided that circumvention of the anti-dumping duties, in the form of country hopping, is taking place, and that dumping of tall oil fatty acid originating in or imported from Finland is taking place at a de-minimis level. Based on that, the Commission made a final determination that the investigation be terminated. A letter of "essential facts" which were being considered by the Commission in making its final determination was sent to all interested parties, and were invited to submit comments.

After considering all information submitted by interested parties and comments on "essential facts", the Commission decided that:

- circumvention of the anti-dumping duties on imports of tall oil fatty acid originating in or imported from Sweden, through importing from Finland is taking place;
- dumping of tall oil fatty acid originating in or imported from Finland is taking place at a de-minimis level.

The Commission, therefore, decided to recommend to the Minister of Trade and Industry that the investigation into the alleged circumvention of anti-dumping duties on imports of tall oil fatty acid originating in or imported from Sweden, through importing from Finland, be terminated.

The Commission's detailed reasons for its decision are set out in the Commission Report No. 328.

Enquiries may be directed to the investigating officers, Mr Jeffrey Maphagela at telephone number (012) 394 3639 or Ms Sandile Dlamini at telephone number (012) 394 3685 or Mr Robert Mudau at telephone number (012) 394 3902 or at fax (012) 395 0518.
