NOTICE 700 OF 2010INTERNATIONAL TRADE ADMINISTRATION COMMISSION OF SOUTH AFRICA*TERMINATION OF THE INVESTIGATION INTO THE ALLEGED DUMPING OF PICKS ORIGINATING IN OR IMPORTED FROM INDIA

On 23 October 2009, the International Trade Administration Commission of South Africa (the Commission) formally initiated an investigation into the alleged dumping of picks originating in or imported from the Republic of India (hereafter referred to as India). Notice of the initiation of the investigation was published in Notice No.1403 of Government Gazette No. 32645 dated 23 October 2009.

The application was lodged on behalf of the Southern African Customs Union (SACU) industry by Ussher Inventions (Pty) Ltd t/a Lasher Tools (the Applicant), being the only manufacturer of the subject product in the SACU, which claimed that the allegedly dumped products are threatening to cause it material injury.

The investigation was initiated after the Commission considered that there was prima facie evidence to show that the subject product was being imported at dumped prices, and is threatening to cause material injury to the SACU industry.

On initiation of the investigation, the known foreign producers of the subject product in India were sent foreign manufacturer/exporter questionnaires to complete. Importers of the subject product were also sent questionnaires to complete. No complete responses were received from any exporter or importer.

After considering all parties' comments, the Commission made a preliminary determination that the subject product was being dumped on the SACU market. However, the Commission made a preliminary determination that there is currently no threat of material injury to the SACU industry.

Based on this, the Commission made a preliminary determination to recommend to the Minister of Trade and Industry to terminate the investigation.

The Commission's detailed reasons for its preliminary determination are set out in Commission Report No. 329 (preliminary report).

The Commission's preliminary report was sent to all interested parties for comments. The only comments in disagreement with the preliminary findings were from the Applicant.

After considering the comments, the Commission, on 13 April 2010 indicated that it is considering making a final determination that the subject product is imported from India at dumped prices and that there is currently no threat of material injury to the SACU industry. The Commission requested that this be conveyed to interested parties in an essential facts letter for comment.

On 14 April 2010, essential facts letters were sent to all interested parties inviting them to comment on the Commission's proposed final determination. The only comment received was from the Applicant.

On 8 June 2010, the Commission, after considering all comments received, made a final determination to recommend to the Minister of Trade and Industry to terminate the investigation into the alleged dumping of picks originating in or imported from India.

The Commission's detailed reasons for its decision are set out in Commission Report No. 345 (Final determination).

Enquiries may be directed to the investigating officer, Mr André Zietsman at (012) 394 3673, or at fax (012) 394 0518.

significantly impede the verification process, the Commission may terminate the verification proceedings and disregard any or all the information submitted by that party. The Commission may nevertheless consider information received from such an interested party that was properly submitted and verified.

Explanatory Document Draft Amended Tariff Investigations Regulations

I. Introduction and Disclaimer

The International Trade Administration Commission of South Africa (“the Commission”) has drafted Amended Tariff Investigations Regulations (“the Amended Regulations”) that are being published in the Government Gazette. To assist parties wishing to comment on the Amended Regulations, the Commission has drafted this document, which explains the purpose of the revision and identifies the more significant amendments that are being proposed.

The amendments are informed by ITAC’s practice and are designed to create a more comprehensive and coherent set of regulations. To achieve this objective, the Amended Regulations contain new provisions addressing issues such as assessment criteria, verification reports, the public file and deficient submissions. Additionally, the Amended Regulations track the application, investigation and decision-making process more carefully.

This document does not discuss all of the amendments that have been incorporated into the Amended Regulations. Many of the amendments deal with relatively minor issues, such as the inconsistent use of terms, which are not addressed. Rather, the focus of this document is on significant substantive or procedural amendments.

Finally, this document cannot be cited to establish Commission practice or interpret, in any manner, the final version of the Amended Regulations. The document does not undertake to provide a comprehensive or authoritative interpretation of the amendments it identifies, which amendments are often highly technical. Instead, the document identifies certain amendments, seeking to focus comments on certain aspects of these amendments.

II. Identification of Amendments

To assist parties in their review, amendments are identified in the order they appear in the Amended Regulations. The headings provided below identify the Part and section of the Amended Regulations in which the amendments can be found. Because the numbering of various sections has changed as a result of the amendments, the section numbers below identify the numbering in the Amended Regulations.

1. Part A – Definitions

The term “interested party” has been revised to include labour unions whose members are employees of SACU producers. Although labour unions were never excluded from being an interested party, the amendment makes explicit that they are a potential interested party.

2. Part B – General Provisions

- a. Section 2 – Scope of regulations: In the current regulations, this section states that the regulations apply to investigations. The amendment to this section clarifies that the regulations also apply to applications.
- b. Section 3 – Confidentiality: Where confidential information is submitted, a party must normally provide non-confidential summaries of such information (see subsection 3.1). In this regard, subsection 3.2 was amended to clarify that where information does not allow for non-confidential summarisation, a sworn statement must be provided as opposed to the submission of reasons. This change is in line with the requirements of the Commission's enabling statute, the International Trade Administration Act, 2002 (Act No. 71 of 2002).
- c. Section 4 - Representation: The various amendments to this section seek to ensure that an applicant's executive management is aware that an application has been submitted on its behalf by a third party. The amendments detail the requirements that must be met for the appointment (or termination) of such representation.
- d. Section 5 - Oral presentations: Section 5.2, which sets a deadline for requesting oral presentations, has been deleted. Section 5.4 has been reorganised to impart greater clarity as to what must be submitted to the Commission at the time a request is made for an oral presentation. New section 5.5 has been added to make explicit that the Commission to vary the agenda for oral presentations.
- e. Section 7 – Computation of periods of time: New section 7.2 has been added to provide explicitly that submissions must reach – and not merely be dispatched to – the Commission by the deadline indicated.
- f. Section 8 – Public File: The provisions of this new section identify the public file, its purpose, and how parties can access it.
- g. Section 9 – Additional information: This new section replaces current section 10, explaining in greater details the Commission's ability to gather information on its own and to request information from an interested or other third party by means of written submissions or oral presentations.
- h. Section 10 – Assessment criteria: This new section arguably represents the most significant amendment to the current regulations. By setting forth various criteria that may inform the Commission's evaluation of applications and its determinations, the section provides guidance regarding Commission decision-making. As noted at the end of subsection 2, the factors listed are not exhaustive and the importance of any factor may vary from case to case.
- i. Section 11 – Verifications: This section (current section 8) has been amended to simplify its structure and to clarify certain aspects of verification proceedings. Subsection 4 clarifies how the Commission will handle verification of an interested party that is from another SACU Member State.
- j. Section 12 – Verification reports: This new section provides interested parties with information about such reports, specifying to which party reports will be sent, the purpose of report and the deadline for submitting comments on reports.
- k. Section 14 – Applications: The revised section (current section 11) provides additional information on applications, including where to obtain applications forms and the submission of confidential and non-confidential versions of an application.

- l. Section 16 - Deficient applications: Clarifications regarding the Commission's deficiency letter have been added to subsections 3 and 4 of this section (current section 12).
- m. Section 18 - Initiation: Together with amendments in section 17 (Preliminary Commission evaluation of an application) and 19 (Publication notice), the purpose of this new section is to clarify and more carefully track the steps leading to the initiation of an investigation.
- n. Section 19 - Publication notice: In light of sections 17 and 18, amended subsection 1 of this section specifies that an investigation is initiated by means of a publication notice in the Government Gazette. New subsection 3 provides guidance on interested and other parties requesting non-confidential versions of an application.
- o. Section 20 - Comments on publication notice: The amendments in this section (current section 17) clarify issues surrounding confidential information and the period for the submission of comments.
- p. Section 21 - Deficiencies in comments received: This new section was inserted to address deficiencies in comments responding to a publication notice and the Commission's handling of such deficiencies.
- q. Section 22 - Final Commission evaluation: Several technical amendments have been made to this section (current section 18) regarding what the Commission evaluates and what documents, as part of its recommendation, are forwarded to the Minister.
- r. Section 23 - Re-submission of applications: The amendments to this section (current section 19) detail the circumstances under which the Commission will allow parties to submit an application that deals with an identical or substantially similar previous request.
- s. Section 24 - Delegation: The amendments to this section (current section 20) detail the decision-making powers of the Commission that cannot be delegated to the Commission staff.
