SOUTH AFRICAN HERITAGE RESOURCES AGENCY

DECLARATION OF “the graves of Charlotte Maxeke in Nancefield Cemetery”, Lilian Ngoyi and Helen Joseph in Avalon Cemetery, Johannesburg AS NATIONAL HERITAGE SITES

By virtue of the powers vested in the South African Heritage Resources Agency in terms of section 27(5) of the National Heritage Resources Act, 25 of 1999, SAHRA hereby declares “the graves of Charlotte Maxeke in Nancefield”, Lilian Ngoyi and Helen Joseph in Avalon, Johannesburg as National Heritage Sites.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

The graves of Charlotte Makhomo Maxeke, Helen Joseph and Lilian Ngoyi is a tangible representation of their significant contribution to cultural development, education, cross-cultural exchange, African independent churches, advocacy of non-racialism, trade unionism, women’s rights and participation in resistance politics. The location within the historic cemetery of Nancefield and Avalon is on its own a significant tangible heritage representation that portray a sad chapter in South African history of forced removals, oppression of human rights, and destruction of historical urban settlement.

Charlotte Maxeke was born on 7 April 1874 at Fort Beaufort in the Eastern Cape. She comes from an area where a political elite of mission-educated Africans was beginning to emerge. After completing her missionary education she qualified as a teacher and taught in Kimberley.

Charlotte Maxeke was one of the first black South Africans to fight for the freedom of African women from oppression and exploitative conditions. She was South Africa’s first black woman graduate obtaining a B.Sc degree from the institute of the African Methodist Episcopal Church (AMEC) from the Wilberforce University in Ohio. Maxeke was influenced by AMEC and through her connections with the Ethiopian Church in South Africa became the organizer of the Women’s Mite Missionary Society in Johannesburg, and then moved to the Pietersburg district as a teacher and evangelist.

Charlotte mostly wrote in Xhosa regarding social and political circumstances of women and in a publication titled, Umteteli wa Bantu, she addressed the ‘woman question’. Maxeke was an early opponent of passes for black women; she organized the anti-pass movement in Bloemfontein in 1913 and in 1918 and founded the Bantu Women’s League of the South African Native National Congress (SANNC). She led a delegation that met Prime Minister Louis Botha to discuss the issue of passes for women. Maxeke participated in the formation of the Industrial and Commercial Workers Union (ICU) in 1920. Charlotte was involved in the organization of voting rights for women and was elected as president of the Women's Missionary Society. Maxeke set up an employment agency for Africans in Johannesburg and was the first black South African woman to become a parole officer for juvenile delinquents. Maxeke was politically active throughout her adult life. She was known and honoured as, 'Mother of Black Freedom in South Africa May' and with her husband used the famous expression, "Mayibuye i Africa-Africa must come to her own"; while an ANC nursery school was named after her in Tanzania. Charlotte Mmakgomo Maxeke died on 16th October 1939 in Johannesburg.

Like Lilian Masediba Ngoyi and Helen Joseph, Charlotte Mmakgomo Maxeke were also involved in the protests on the Witwatersrand about equality and better working conditions for women. The introduction of Lilian Ngoyi and Helen Joseph into politics was co-incidentally through a General Secretary of the Garment Workers Union, Lillian as an ordinary factory worker and Helen as a Union official and a close friend. This was in 1952 during the National Defiance Campaign called by the Congress Alliance in terms of the African National Congress's 1949 Programme of Action.

During the following decades women organised and formed formidable opposition through the African National Congress Woman's League and the Federation of South African Women (FEDSAW or FSAW), which were launched on 17th April 1954 in Johannesburg. Lilian Ngoyi was the first woman who served on the executive of the African National Congress in the then Transvaal (Gauteng). Both Lilian Masediba Ngoyi and Helen Joseph were members of FEDSAW. Lilian Ngoyi was the president of the Federation of South African Women and together with Helen was pivotal in the formation of the Federation whose membership consisted of women from all race groups, trade unions and progressive political organisations. FEDSAW strove for non-racialism and equality for all South African women, while eradicating economic and social barriers impeding their empowerment. The major task of FEDSAW members was to ensure that pass laws were not extended to women by organising and taking part in protest marches. According to its constitution, the objectives of the Federation were to bring South African women together to secure full equality for all women, regardless of race, colour or creed; to remove social and legal and economic barriers; to work for the protection of women and children. Although the Federation acknowledged that the primary task at hand was the struggle for national liberation, it warned that the struggle would not be won without the full participation of women.

At the first conference a call was made for the enfranchisement of men and women of all races; equality of opportunity in employment; equal pay for equal work; equal rights in relation to property, marriage and children; and the removal of all laws and customs that denied women such equality. This led to the formulation of The Charter, which demanded paid maternity leave, childcare for working mothers, and free as well as compulsory education for all South African children. A major task of the Federation in succeeding years was the organisation of massive protests against the extension of pass laws to women. Together with the ANC Women's League, the Federation organised scores of demonstrations outside government offices in South African towns. The first national protest took place on October 27, 1955 when 2,000 women of all races marched on the Union Buildings in Pretoria, planning to meet with the Cabinet ministers responsible for the administration of apartheid laws. The Minister of Native Affairs, Dr. Verwoerd under whose jurisdiction the pass laws fell, refused to receive a multiracial delegation. The biggest protest of women took place on 9th August 1956 when 20 000 South African women marched to the Union Buildings in Tshwane (Pretoria). This march was led by Lilian Ngoyi, Helen Joseph, Rahima Moosa and Sophie Williams –De Bruyn and culminated in the women's defiance campaign in 1956. The success of the demonstration challenged the stereotypes about women and their lack of political drive.

This gathering of women was unprecedented in attracting one of the largest crowds ever to gather at the Union Buildings. Helen Joseph established the Congress of Democrats, an organisation which organised and ignite militant White resistance to apartheid. In 1957, Helen Joseph and others were banned and their movement restricted to certain municipalities. She also became the first person in October 1962 to be placed under house arrest according to the Sabotage Act. Like Helen, Lilian Ngoyi's movements were also restricted.

The 9th of August was declared Women's Day to commemorate and celebrate the achievements of South African women as represented by Charlotte Maxeke, Helen Joseph and Lilian Ngoyi.

NOTICE 731 OF 2010

Date: 19 July 2010

COMPETITION COMMISSION
APPLICATION FOR AN EXEMPTION

Notice is hereby given in terms of Section 10(6)(a) of the Competition Act, No. 89 of 1998, as amended ("the Act"), that the South African Petroleum Industry Association ("SAPIA"), its members and specified affiliates have applied to the Competition Commission ("the Commission"), in terms of Section 10(1) of the Act, to be exempted from certain provisions of Chapter 2 of the Act. SAPIA is the representative association of the petroleum industry. It was formed to represent the common interests of the petroleum refining and marketing industry in South Africa, and to promote understanding of the industry's contribution to economic and social progress with all stakeholders.

This notice is published to allow interested parties to make written representations to the Commission as to why the exemption should not be granted. All representations must reach the Commission within 20 business days from the date of the publication of this notice as provided for in terms of Section 10(6)(b) of the Act. Representations must be directed to either of the two Investigators mentioned hereunder.

It is important to note that the Commission had previously granted SAPIA and its members a short-term unconditional exemption in respect of these agreements and practices. The short-term exemption was granted solely for purposes of the 2010 FIFA Soccer World Cup, and would lapse on August 31, 2010. SAPIA is in essence requesting the Commission to grant it a further exemption

The following companies are members of SAPIA and parties to the exemption application:

- BP Southern Africa (Pty) Ltd
- Chevron South Africa (Pty) Ltd
- Engen Petroleum Ltd
- Sasol Ltd
- Shell South Africa Marketing (Pty) Ltd and Shell South Africa Refining (Pty) Ltd
- Total South Africa (Pty) Ltd
- The Petroleum Oil and Gas Corporation of SA (Pty) Ltd t/a PETROSA

As noted above, the exemption application also extends to various subsidiary and affiliate companies which are involved in the business and conduct described but are not members of SAPIA themselves. The following is a list of subsidiaries and affiliate companies covered by this application:

The exemption application also covers a range of agreements and practices which, according to SAPIA, are required to ensure the continuity and stability of liquid fuels supply to the various sectors and geographical locations of the South African economy. SAPIA relies on the objective set out in Section 10(3)(b)(iv) of the Act, which makes provision for a firm to apply for an exemption if the purpose of the agreement and/or practice is to contribute towards maintaining the economic stability of an industry. The petroleum industry was designated by the Minister of Trade and Industry for purposes of Section 10(3)(b)(iv) of the Act on 05 June 2009.

Further the application relates to a wide range of liquid fuel products, and covers only agreements and practices which exist in the following stages of the supply chain: inbound logistics; manufacturing; primary distribution; terminal and depot operation and specific shared services such as the airport fuelling services and port joint bunkering services.

SAPIA's application does not extend to the wholesale, commercial and retail trade of the liquid fuel supply chain.

ADJUSTMENT OF STATURORY LIMIT IN RESPECT OF CLAIMS FOR LOSS OF INCOME AND LOSS OF SUPPORT

AANPASSING VAN STATUTÊRE LIMIET TEN OPSIGTE VAN EISE VIR VERLIES AAN INKOMSTE EN ONDERHOUD

The Road Accident Fund hereby, in accordance with section 17(4A)(a) of the Road Accident Fund Act, Act No. 56 of 1996, as amended, adjusts and makes known that the amounts referred to in subsection 17(4)(c) are hereby adjusted to R 180 750.00 (One Hundred and Eighty Thousand Seven Hundred and Fifty Rand), with effect from 31 July 2010, to counter the effects of CPI inflation.

Die Padongelukfonds maak ooreenkomstig artikel 17(4A)(a) van die Padongelukfondswet, Wet No. 56 van 1996, soos gewysig, bekend dat, met effek vanaf 31 Julie 2010, die bedrae waarna verwys word in subartikel 17(4)(c) aangepas word tot R 180 750.00 (Een Honderd en Tagtig Duisend Sewe Honderd en Vyftig Rand), ten einde die uitwerking van VPI inflasie teen te werk.

Note: Statistics South Africa changed the “basket and weights” that are used to calculate the CPI index. The first publication of the CPI index based on the new “basket and weights” took place in January 2009. The CPI index based on the new “basket and weights” was used to calculate this adjustment, effective from 31 July 2010 (with base year 2008 = 100). The rebased CPI index for May 2008 was 98,7. The CPI index for May 2010 was 111,5. This adjustment was calculated by multiplying the R160'000 limit by 111,5/98,7.

Neem kennis: Statistieke Suid-Afrika het die “mandjie en gewigte” wat gebruik word om die VPI indeks te bereken verander. Die eerste publikasie van die VPI indeks gebaseer op die nuwe “mandjie en gewigte” het plaasgevind in Januarie 2009. Die VPI indeks gebaseer op die nuwe “mandjie en gewigte” is gebruik om hierdie aanpassing, effektief vanaf 31 July 2010, te bereken (met basisjaar 2008 = 100). Die heraanangepaste VPI indeks vir Mei 2008 was 98,7. Die VPI indeks vir Mei 2010 was 111,5. Hierdie aanpassing was bereken deur die R 160 000 limiet te vermenigvuldig met 111,5/98,7.
