PUBLIC NOTICE

PROPOSED GUIDELINES FOR THE INTERPRETATION AND APPLICATION OF SECTION 103(5) OF THE NATIONAL CREDIT ACT 34 OF 2005

There has been uncertainty in the credit industry regarding the implementation of Section 103(5) of the National Credit Act. The National Credit Regulator therefore publishes these proposed guidelines for information and comment by the public and other interested stakeholders. Interested parties are required to submit their written comments to Lesiba Mashapa at lmashapa@ncr.org.za by 27 February 2015.

1. Purpose
 - 1.1. These guidelines are intended to provide guidance to credit providers, debt collectors, debt counsellors and payment distribution agents on the interpretation and application of section 103(5) of the National Credit Act 34 of 2005 ("NCA").
2. Application
 - 2.1. These guidelines apply to credit providers, debt collectors, debt counsellors and payment distribution agents in respect of the recovery of debt from consumers arising from credit agreements to which the NCA applies.
3. Section 103(5) of the NCA
 - 3.1. Section 103(5) provides that:-

"Despite any provision of the common law or a credit agreement to the contrary, the amounts contemplated in section 101(1)(b) to (g) that accrue during the time that a consumer is in default under a credit agreement may not, in aggregate, exceed the unpaid balance of the principal debt under that credit agreement as at the time that the default occurs."
 - 3.2. The amounts set out in sections 101(1)(b) – (g) are initiation fees (s 101(1)(b)), service fees (s 101(1)(c)), interest (s 101(1)(d)), cost of credit insurance (s101(1)(e)), default administration charge (s101(1)(f) and collection costs (s101(1)(g)).
 - 3.3. Section 103(5) came into effect on 1 June 2007 and all credit providers and debt collectors should have implemented and applied it from that date.
4. Principles

The following principles should be followed when section 103(5) is implemented and applied by credit providers, debt collectors, debt counsellors and payment distribution agents:-

 - 4.1. The consumer cannot waive his or her right to the protection of section 103(5) at anytime by agreement with the credit provider or debt collector.
 - 4.2. Once the consumer has purged the default by paying all the arrears in relation to the section 101(1)(b)-(g) charges, section 103(5) no longer applies. If the consumer defaults again, section 103(5) becomes operative and the amounts that accrued during the first period of default should be added to the amounts that accrue during the second period of default and any subsequent periods of default to determine the amount of the section 101(1)(b)-(g) charges that should not exceed the balance of the unpaid principal debt. The balance of the unpaid principal debt that should be used in these circumstances is as at the second period of default and any subsequent periods of default.

- 4.3. The legal position under the common law in duplum rule is that unpaid arrear interest ceases to run when it reaches the unpaid capital amount. When, due to payment, unpaid interest drops below the outstanding capital amount, interest again begins to run until it once again equals the amount of the outstanding capital amount.

The position in terms of section 103(5) as outlined by the Supreme Court of Appeal in Nedbank Ltd and others v National Credit Regulator and Another (2011) 3 SA 581 (SCA) is that once the total charges in sections 101(1)(b)-(g) equal the amount of the unpaid balance of the principal debt, no further charges may be levied and payments made by a consumer thereafter during the period of default do not have the effect of permitting the credit provider to charge further charges while such default persists. It therefore means that after the section 101(1)(b)-(g) charges had reached the balance of the unpaid principal debt, the credit provider or debt collector should not levy further charges. Where the consumer had made payments while in default, the section 101(1)(b)-(g) charges will not accrue again until they reach the balance of the unpaid principal debt and the credit provider and debt collector can no longer charge these amounts in these circumstances.

- 4.4. Collection costs are defined in section 1 of the NCA as an amount that may be charged by a credit provider in respect of the enforcement of the consumer's monetary obligations under the credit agreement. The fees charged by and payable to attorneys, advocates, and debt collectors are incurred by the credit providers when collecting the debt and accordingly form part of collection costs. These fees are therefore covered by section 103(5) as collection costs and should be included as part of the calculation of the total charges in terms of section 101(1)(b)-(g) for the purposes of section 103(5).
- 4.5. The operation of section 103(5) is not affected by the commencement of legal proceedings by the credit provider or debt collector against the consumer. If during the course of the legal proceedings, the section 101(b)-(g) charges accrues to equal the balance of the unpaid principal debt, section 103(5) will prevent these charges from exceeding the balance of the unpaid principal debt. The credit provider or debt collector should not levy further charges anymore once the charges have accrued to equal the balance of the unpaid principal debt. This principle also applies to applications to the court or National Consumer Tribunal in terms of section 86 of the NCA to restructure the repayment obligations of consumers.

- 4.6. After judgment has been granted, interest at the rate granted by the court will start to run afresh on the judgment debt. If the consumer defaults on the judgment debt, the unpaid arrear interest stops running once it equals the unpaid balance of the capital amount of the judgment debt. This principle also applies to debt review orders granted by the court or the National Consumer Tribunal.
- 4.7 Section 103(5) applies to credit facilities only in respect of the amount of the credit facility that has been utilised by the consumer. The amount utilised by the consumer serves as the principal debt for the purposes of section 103(5) and the section 101(1)(b)-(g) charges that accrue during the time that the consumer is in default should not exceed the balance of the unpaid utilised amount. For example, if a credit provider grants the consumer an overdraft of R100 000.00 and the consumer only utilises R20 000.00 and subsequently defaults, the section 101(1)(b)-(g) charges that accrue while the consumer is in default should not exceed R20 000.00.

NOTICE 74 OF 2015INTERNATIONAL TRADE ADMINISTRATION COMMISSION*CUSTOMS TARIFF APPLICATIONS*LIST 01/2015

The International Trade Administration Commission (herein after referred to as ITAC or the Commission) has received the following applications concerning the Customs Tariff. Any objection to or comments on these representation should be submitted to the Chief Commissioner, ITAC, Private Bag X753, Pretoria, 0001. Attention is drawn to the fact that the rate of duty mentioned in these applications is that requested by the applicant and that the Commission may, depending on its findings, recommend a lower or higher rate of duty.

CONFIDENTIAL INFORMATION

The submission of confidential information to the Commission in connection with customs tariff applications is governed by section 3 of the Tariff Investigations Regulations, which regulations can be found on ITAC's website at <http://www.itac.org.za/documents/R.397.pdf>.

These regulations require that if any information is considered to be confidential, then a non-confidential version of the information must be submitted, simultaneously with the confidential version. In submitting a non-confidential version the regulations are strictly applicable and require parties to indicate:

- ❑ Each instance where confidential information has been omitted and the reasons for confidentiality;*
- ❑ A summary of the confidential information which permits other interested parties a reasonable understanding of the substance of the confidential information; and*
- ❑ In exceptional cases, where information is not susceptible to summary, reasons must be submitted to this effect.*

This rule applies to all parties and to all correspondence with and submissions to the Commission, which unless clearly indicated to be confidential, will be made available to other interested parties.

The Commission will disregard any information indicated to be confidential that is not accompanied by a proper non-confidential summary or the aforementioned reasons.

If a party considers that any document of another party, on which that party is submitting representations, does not comply with the above rules and that such deficiency affects that party's ability to make meaningful representations, the details of the deficiency and the reasons why that party's rights are so affected must be submitted to the commission in writing forthwith (and at the latest 14 days prior to the date on which that party's submission is due).

Failure to do so timeously will seriously hamper the proper administration of the investigation, and such party will not be able to subsequently claim an inability to make meaningful representations on the basis of the failure of such other party to meet the requirements.

Ref: 10/2014 Enquiries Ms T Morale, Tel: (012) 394 3694, Fax: (012) 394 4694 Email: tmorale@itac.org.za

REASONS FOR THE APPLICATION:

The applicant submitted, inter alia, the following reasons for the application:

- Fabric supply in South Africa is relatively limited in the offerings in respect of trends and product newness compared to offerings available from the rest of the world.
- A key restriction on the ability of local suppliers to meet Coricraft's fabric requirements is the sourcing of filament/fibre which has to be imported. As a result of importation, the lead time of supply for local suppliers is significantly longer than that of the overseas supplier's timeline.
- The local industry lacks dyeing capacity and capability.
- Local suppliers fail to meet the "handle and performance standards" due to lack of finishing techniques.
- Local textile manufacturers derive most volumes of their fabric use from clothing, work wear and other industrial wear manufacturing. As such, Coricraft's fabric requirements cannot sustain these businesses and supporting these local suppliers has in the past placed Coricraft's business in jeopardy when an existing supply line were terminated without adequate warning

PUBLICATION PERIOD:

Representation should be submitted to the above address within four (4) weeks of the date of this notice.

2. CREATION OF A REBATE PROVISION:

“Goods of any description (excluding mounted or populated circuit boards) for the manufacture of prepayment electricity supply meters classifiable in tariff subheading 9028.30, at such times, in such quantities and subject to such conditions as the International Trade Administration Commission may allow by specific permit, provided the Commission is satisfied that the circuit boards are mounted and populated in the SACU region.”

Enquiries: ITAC Ref: 20/2014, Enquires: Ms. Lufuno Maliaga, Tel: 012 394 3835 or email lmaliaga@itac.org.za

REASONS FOR THE APPLICATION:

The applicant submitted, inter alia, the following reasons for the application:

- The local industry is facing fierce competition from low-priced imports of electricity meters, particularly from China;
- Electricity meters are currently duty free, whilst some components used in the manufacture of electricity meters attract import duties, consequently, the local industry manufacturing electricity meters is placed at an additional disadvantage; and
- The local industry is losing market share, and this will result in job losses.
